Legal basis for the processing of personal data

We only process personal data if there is a legal basis for doing so, i.e.

- if the data subject has given his/her consent (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR)
- for the fulfilment of a contract (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)
- if needed in order to comply with a legal obligation (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c GDPR)

Processing of data, data categories and groups of persons concerned

All personal data are collected and processed in accordance with the legal data protection regulations.

We process the following data about you: Company or authority name, name and first name of contact persons and users, address, telephone and fax number, email address, bank details, contracts, orders, invoices, credit notes, delivery notes, VAT ID.

The data belong to the following data categories: Identification data, communication data, financial data, order data, contract data and billing data.

The following groups of people are affected: Suppliers and service providers in a contractual relationship, a business relationship or in the process of initiating such relationships as well as interested parties.

Use of your data (purpose)

This data is processed;

- in order to identify you as a supplier / service provider / interested party
- to process your requests / orders appropriately
- in order to fulfil orders or contracts with you
- to correspond with you

Data protection information according to the EU Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

- for the creation of credit notes / payment of deliveries and services
- for information purposes

Once these have elapsed, the data will be erased.

The data collection is limited to the extent of what is required for the purpose. We do not pass on your data on to third parties unless it is necessary to fulfil inquiries, orders and contracts.

Your rights as person concerned

As a data subject, you have the right at any time

- to receive for free information about your stored personal data (Art. 15 GDPR), its origin and recipients and the purpose of processing your data,
- to correction (Art. 16 GDPR),
- to restrict processing (Art. 18 GDPR),
- to erasure such data, taking into account any existing legal storage obligations (Art. 17 GDPR),
- to information (Art. 19 GDPR),
- to complain to the competent supervisory authority (Art. 77 GDPR),
- to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR).

Withdrawal of consent

You can withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data at any time with effect for the future. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the legality of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent prior to the withdrawal. Should you wish to make use of your right to withdraw, you only need to send an email to the responsible body (see above).

Storage period and deletion of personal data

The personal data collected by us will be erased or blocked as soon as the purpose of storage ceases to be applicable. Further storage after expiry of the intended purpose may be permitted due to legal retention periods.

Provision of your personal data

Within the framework of our business relationship, you must provide the personal data which is necessary for the establishment and implementation of our business relationship and the fulfilment of the associated contractual obligations or which we are legally obliged to collect. Without this data, we will usually not be able to conclude a contract or execute an order or we will no longer be able to execute an existing contract and may have to terminate it.

Technical-organisational measures

We take technical and organisational measures to process your data with a high degree of security. Particular emphasis is placed on the following points:

- Confidentiality (Art. 32 para. 1 lit. b GDPR), in particular access, receipt, and separation control.
- Integrity (Art. 32 para. 1 lit. b GDPR), in particular transmission, input, processing, documentation and order control
- Availability and resilience (Art. 32 para. 1 lit. b GDPR), in particular availability control and the ability to restore.
- Procedure for regular testing, assessing and evaluating (Art. 32 para. 1 lit. d GDPR; Art. 25 para. 1 GDPR), in particular data protection management, data protection by default and organisational control.
